

1. I look at you whenever you look at me; You see but I see not; no sight have I; I speak but have no voice; your voice is heard; My lips can only open uselessly.
A shadow B shield C sun D mirror

2. My mother I bring forth, she brings forth me. I'm sometimes greater, sometimes less than she.
A night and day C love and hate
B silence and sound

3. I am a black child sprung from a bright sire, a wingless bird, fleeing to heaven from earth. Each eye that meets me weeps, but not from grief, and in thin air I vanish at my birth.
A sword B smoke C fountain D fire

4. What is that which has one voice and yet becomes four-footed and two-footed and three-footed?
A Frog C Human
B Cow D Caterpillar

5. There is one father and twelve children; of these each has twice thirty daughters of different appearance: Some are white to look at and the others black in turn; They are immortal and yet they all fade away.
A Year, days and nights C Stone, glass and clay
B Earth, wind and fire